Rice and Schlosser, for the Winning Outfit, Put Up a Sensational Game. Team Work of Local 'Varsity Aggregation Is Feature-Capt. Boyd's Work for Visiters Is Easily Best.

By HARRY M, DODD

Going at top speed, with the excellent team work which has made it one of the most formidable aggregations in the South, the Georgetown basket-ball team completely overwhelmed the Washington and Lee five at Odd Fellows' Hall last evening by 60 to 15.

Never has the real strength of the Blue and Gray aggregation been more plainly shown than was the case in last night's

With a defense that was well-nigh impregnable, the local collegians set such a terrific and aggressive pace that before the close of the first half the Virginia outfit was completely subdued. At no play did the visiting aggregation have the ghost of a show, contenting themselves with a feeble effort to stop the forceful enslaught of the winning forwards.

Signals working perfectly, the Blue and Gray athletes started at the sound of the opening whistle, and with all that speed, endurance, and accuracy which has brought them so prominently to the fore in Eastern collegiate basket-ball, Georgetown, although outweighed in every posi tion, made a run-away race of the game, the forwards and center pocketing the leather at will. After the first few minutes the visitors seemed completely at sea, the variety and force of the winners' attack keeping them puzzled throughout the remainder of the fray.

BOOKED FOR BIG LEAGUE. "DOLLY" GRAY DECLARES THE TERMS ARE SATISFACTORY

Pacific Coast Wonder Pleased with Chance to Show His Skill in Washington.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 6 .- "I have always had a preference for the American League, and Washington looks as good to me as any other team." said "Dolly" Gray, the best twirler on the Coast, when asked how he likes the idea of playing in the Capital, "I have no fear of making good, and if Washington has toomany veteran slabmen to choose from, I have no doubt that I can land with some other American League club, as I believe some one of them will refuse to waive if Cantillon would try to send me back to the minors.'

Gray has the confidence of a veteran, for he is no youngster at the game, but a seasoned pitcher, who has only been kept out of the big leagues because Pres ident Berry, of the Los Angeles team, has refused to sell him heretofore, and the peculiarities of the draft law have caused his retention here. He is thirty years old, and for at least five years has itched gilt-edged ball.

Gray is not a showy pitcher, but is a nsistent worker, very steady for a southpaw, and is able to work the corners with a sharp curve ball. He has a good change of pace and watches the bases well. Although not a heavy hitter, he occasionally raps out long ones and has put them over the fence here.

It has always been a mystery how it was that Bill Burns was selected to go to the big leagues last year in place of His Rise from Sand Lots Around Gray. Figuring on the work of both This City to Major League Is Re- men season before last, Gray is considered 100 points better than Burns.
